How to Resist temptations.

Dear Parishioners, The following "advices" come from my personal experience and from the teaching of St. Augustine, who happened to be a great sinner in the first part of his life. Never face temptation alone, by yourself. Fight temptation with and through Christ. How? By consciously reactivating your union with him during your trial. This is possible because you are a member of the Body of Christ, through faith and baptism. This is real, not just a pious comparison, a metaphor. You are really connected to his Resurrected Body, as much as the branches are connected to the vine and receive their sap from it. You are connected with all the victories of Christ over all the temptations he had himself, during his earthly life. St. Thomas Aquinas said that all the merits of Christ's Life and Passion belong to you as much as if you had lived this Passion and Life yourself. The same power at work in Christ, which enabled him to triumph over every possible form of temptation. Moreover, Christ knows, in his divine awareness, each and every temptation you personally had and will have; And he won the victory over them for you. It is up to you to claim the victory, by inviting him in your warfare. It is still a long-haul job; it requires resiliency and commitment. Nothing that you cannot do, with him.

Concretely, how do you do this. First, don't ever dialogue with the temptation. Turn away from the temptation. Run away. Look at Christ. Let him face the temptations. You may pray like this, "Lord, deal with this temptation for me. I will give you all the credit and praise for the victory. I will not let go of your hand". I challenge you to try this with all your faith and will, in humility. Tell me about the outcome.

Two final remarks. The first one is that the devil will make you believe you have already lost the battle and sinned, as soon as you become aware of the temptations in your thoughts. Not so! Only when you really consent to the bad thoughts and entertain them, only then you commit a sin. Christ himself had bad thoughts and yet, never sinned! You may have millions of terrible temptations and not commit a venial sin. (Contd.....)

(Pastor's corner contd....)

The second remark is that the devil will make you believe Christ has already run away from you - in truth Christ never runs away from you - especially when you feel degraded, soiled and humiliated by a terrible temptation. Christ himself has experienced this kind of temptation without being degraded. See Luke 4 verse 13 in the New Jerusalem translation. "Having exhausted every way of putting him to the test, the devil left him." You may feel degraded by a great temptation, but you are not, if you stay with Christ. Have a victorious Lenten warfare. Fr. Pierre.
