DO YOU HAVE BLIND SPOTS?

Pastor's Corner

Today's Gospel about the healing of the blind man of Jericho, named Bartimaeus, was chosen among many thousands of miracles that Jesus did. It was chosen by St. Mark to be written down in this Gospel so that it might be handed on to us because of its universal meaning. Well, you might say, "I am not blind." Yes, but Helen Keller, who was born deaf, mute and blind, wrote, "The greatest calamity that could befall a person is to have sight and fail to see."

Are you spiritually blind? Can you see what's really the case? Are you able to take in what truly matters in your life and see the big picture in the different situations of your daily life? People who are physically blind stumble about if they don't have a guide or a cane. They don't see the obstacles they should be avoiding. If you are not spiritually blind, you can answer the following questions: • What is the goal of my life? • What are the real obstacles that prevent me from attaining the good I was created for?

The worst thing is that most of us don't know we are spiritually blind! If we could only become aware of it— and that is already a real grace— we could ask Jesus to enable us to see. Let's try to identify with Bartimaeus following today's Gospel step by step. He was from Jericho, one of the oldest cities in the world, also called the city of sin. When the Israelites "invaded" their promised land, their biggest enemy was the city of Jericho. That city was far too strong for them. They won the battle by the grace of God, walking around its wall with the Ark of the Covenant, the priests and the liturgical trumpets. The walls crumbled down! That city stood for all those institutions marked by injustice and corruption. It stood for that way of organizing ourselves, that is opposed to God's way.

Bartimaeus has a great virtue. He is blind but he knows it. The other citizens of Jericho were so much focused on the 4 "P's:" Power, Prestige or honour, Possessions or money, and Pleasures. It blinded them to the big picture, to God and His ways, His wisdom. Like these people of Jericho, we fall into self complacency. We say "I am ok! You are ok!" The other "virtue" of Bartimaeus is that he begs. He knows that he cannot heal himself of physical blindness, while we think we can heal ourselves of our spiritual blindness. But we can't. It's not a problem that we can solve, like a computer problem. Why? Because our very own mind and our very own will are the problem. Sin makes the mind blind and the will very weak. So "more mind" and "more will" cannot help. Because the mind has become blind and the will weak, we cannot rely on them. We keep getting deeper into these problems. Christianity is a salvation religion. It is meant to solve a problem that we cannot solve by ourselves.

The first step is to realize that my life is a mess in a certain area, that I cannot help myself in that dark area, because I am blind to it, and slave to it. The other step is to invite God in. "Master have mercy on me," says Bartimaeus. We said that at the very beginning of Mass. But this is not a popular stance. It's the stance of a beggar. People will try to repress that attitude in you. Today, the government doesn't financially support those recovery centers who use the 12 steps, the most effective way to recover from addiction. Why? Because in the 12 steps you need to ask God to step into your mess and put order in your life. But we are in a culture of self-sufficiency, the self-made man, the lone ranger of the far west.

So Bartimaeus hears Jesus answering his request for mercy. He is called out of Jericho, to follow Jesus up to Jerusalem. Jesus gave Bartimaeus the vision he needed to follow Him and His disciples on the arduous journey up, from the lowest place on earth, (Jericho is near the Dead Sea) to the highest city in the Holy Land, Jerusalem, the Heavenly City. What will happen there? Jesus will die to save us, and to teach us the way. That way is the path if self-giving, of self-emptying love. Only Jesus can give us that spiritual vision about our lives. "My life is not about me. It is for someone and something greater than me = God and His children." Without that spiritual vision, I cannot know the big picture, and where I am going. The 4 P's, Power, Prestige, Possessions and Pleasures will destroy me and possess me. But with that vision and that healed will, I will see and act like Jesus. When Jesus asks you, "What do you want?" What is your answer?
God bless you, Fr. Pierre
